2013 Maintenance Decrease — Board Memo dated January 23, 2013

Effective March 1, 2013 · Rate: $19.05 → $17.80 per share · Decrease: –$1.25/share/year · –$106,284 annually · –6.0% · actual shareholder effect +5.45% increase

---

The 2013 mortgage refinancing produced total savings of $2.17/share/year ($184,500 annually). The board returned $1.25/share (58%) to shareholders. The remaining $0.92/share (42%) — approximately $78,000/year — was retained by the co-op.

The $0.92/share retained without disclosure constitutes what is known in accounting terms as a “back door increase” or “shadow hike.” Shareholders were not told the total savings figure, what percentage they were receiving, or what the co-op was keeping. This is a transparency failure, not an accusation of wrongdoing.

The refinancing savings breakdown:

- Total annual savings from refinancing: $2.17/share/year · $184,500 building-wide
- Returned to shareholders: $1.25/share/year (58%) · $106,284 annually
- Retained by the co-op: $0.92/share/year (42%) · ~$78,000 annually · never disclosed to shareholders
- Cumulative retained 2013–2024 (12 years): approximately $936,000

- While fees nominally fell 6.6% (from $19.05 to $17.80), shareholders are actually bearing a 5.45% higher cost because the co-op retained $0.92 of the $2.17 savings per share.

The memo also states "most Co-ops and Condos have had multiple maintenance and/or assessments over the past six years, we have had none." This is incorrect · Riveredge had a maintenance increase in 2008.

FROM: BOARD OF DIRECTORS
DATE: JANUARY 23, 2013
RE: MAINTENANCE

It is indeed a Happy New Year. As mentioned in the previous memo, our mortgage loan was successfully refinanced and our monthly mortgage payments are now lower. Although most Co-ops and Condos have had multiple maintenance and/or assessments over the past six years, we have had none. (wrong). In addition, we have been able to do a substantial amount of improvements during this period.

The Board of Directors wants to return a substantial part (.58%) of the savings on our mortgage payments to the Riveredge shareholders and has voted to decrease the maintenance by $1.25/share beginning in March. This means that your monthly maintenance will decrease by an amount determined by multiplying the number of the shares you own by $1.25. For example: If you have 600 shares (600 x $1.25), your maintenance will be reduced by $750 a year, or $62.50 a month.

The future has many financial uncertainties, looming tax increases, as well as fuel and vendor increases. All these unknowns have been taken into consideration in our decision. We feel we can reduce the maintenance and still cover the anticipated expenses of operation and maintaining the Riveredge and afford future improvements and projects.

We feel exuberant about the new mortgage and the good it will bring to the Riveredge community far into the future.

Sincerely,

The Riveredge Board of Directors

This Memo needs some work. The 5% or $77,000 retained by the co-op is referred to as a "back door increase" or "shadow hike" in accounting terms.
